

January 2010 Employee of the Month

Misha Ostrovsky, Senior Engineer, Water Supply Implementation Section

Misha Ostrovsky is being recognized for the successful completion of the St. Lucie and Indian River Counties Water Resource Study. This study evaluated the potential for capturing excess water in the region, making it available for beneficial uses, while reducing the harmful impacts to the Indian River Lagoon.

The project encompassed a challenging variety of technical issues. The project also included the added dimension of working closely with the St. Johns River Water Management District and other local water control districts to help identify inter-district solutions. Misha successfully integrated multiple disciplines into the study and coordinated with the Indian River Lagoon-South project to help identify truly regional alternatives to the issue at hand.

After months of working together with stakeholders and the engineering consultant, Misha brought the project to a successful conclusion-on time and on budget. Congratulations to Misha Ostrovsky for your extraordinary efforts resulting in the successful completion of the St. Lucie and Indian River Counties Water Resource Study!
